Commercial waste and recycling collections provided by North Norfolk District Council are deemed outside the scope of VAT. As such, VAT will not be charged.

*For each residual waste bin hired from North Norfolk District Council, customers qualify the free hire of one recycling bin, otherwise, bin hire rates for recycling bins are the same as for residual waste bins.

We offer a range of collection frequencies for your waste, including fortnightly, weekly or multiple times per week (depending on location).

A recycling service that will save you money

Recycling is one of the easiest actions that a business can undertake to reduce waste service costs and reduce its impact on the environment. As part of our recycling service we collect glass bottles and jars, plastic food pots, tubs and trays, food and drink cartons and kitchen foil and foil trays, paper, cardboard, steel and aluminium cans, empty aerosols and plastic bottles. This means it's now more cost effective than ever for your business to recycle. Recycling collections are significantly cheaper than residual waste collections for the same size container and for each residual waste bin your hire from us, you will receive free hire of a recycling bin.

Contact us for details of collection frequencies available in your area.

Business waste and the law

All businesses are likely to produce waste and any waste produced by your business or within your workplace is regulated by a number of laws

Why do I have to pay for a waste collection?

Business rates do not include provision for the removal of waste from business premises and it is against the law for businesses to dispose of their waste via household waste services, such as household waste and recycling bins or at recycling centres.

Waste can be anything you own or your business produces and you want or are required to get rid of.

The Duty of Care is a law, which says that you must take all reasonable steps to store waste safely and securely to stop it escaping from your control and causing pollution or harming anyone. The Duty of Care has no time limit.

You are specifically responsible for your waste, from when you produce it, until you have transferred it to an authorised person.

The Duty of Care also states you must:

- Store and transport your waste appropriately and securely
- Check that your waste is transported and handled by people or businesses that are authorised to do so (you can check whether someone is registered to collect your waste by calling the Environment Agency on 03708 506506 or by visiting www.gov.uk)
- Describe the waste in writing and keep copies of all transfer notes for two years. As part of our waste and recycling service, North Norfolk District Council will supply you with a Duty of Care Waste Transfer Note for the waste we collect from your business.

If you break the law, you can be fined an unlimited amount.

Additional rules apply to the following waste types

Food Waste

The Animal By-Products Regulations prohibit the landfill of raw meat and fish waste and former foodstuffs, as such, North Norfolk District Council is not able to collect animal by-product waste. However, where this waste is generated in small quantities from retailers, distributors or manufacturers premises (up to 20kg per week), this can be collected by North Norfolk District Council for disposal as normal business waste.

Waste Electrical and Electronic Equipment

The Waste Electrical and Electronic Equipment (WEEE) Regulations require that WEEE is treated to remove any hazardous substances and the resultant material recycled. The 'user' is liable for all associated costs, unless the old equipment is being replaced on a like-for-like basis, when the producer of the new equipment is liable for disposal of the WEEE. Disposal of WEEE with general non-hazardous waste is not permitted.
